Well thanks for waiting for this release, I know its taken way too long to actually get this chapter out in time. But remember this from now on that I'm also translating 2 H-games and also translating help files from those H games. Anyhow that being said, the next slew of chapters will be released slowly due to that I finally found a way to get script back into said H-games and will be trying to put more effort into getting that out quickly. I'm sorry about this but these H-games patchesmay also be part of Hidoi's releases as well.

Chapter 6 Translation Notes

Page 76 Where the square Yoshi holds over Mario's says retard, originally it only said 'aho' which is Japanese for retard, fool, idiot or dummy.

Page 71 Right page tl note: Where it say grind it originally said 'konkon' which is the Japanese SFX for something being grinded up. I had a hard time expressing that abstract thought so I made it a physical thought instead. Don't worry it keeps the same context it would've originally had.

Page 71 Bottom tl note. I had more trouble here deciding what to put because because it said 'yuki daruma' which essentially means snow sculpture (yuki = snow, daruma = sculpture)
